TRADING ON UNUSUAL SCALE

NEW TORK, Sept. 22.—Uncertainty respecting the status of the Anglo-French cred. Inspotalions provoked some unsettlement in the stock market today.

Trading was again on a very unusual scale of activity, transactions approximating a militon sbares, but dealings were under greater restrain, in that fuetuations were less violent.

In piace of the 18 to 25-point advances or declines which characterized recent turbulent sea ions, changes rarely exceeded 5 points. There were a few notable exceptions however, General Motors ialling 114, points to 225; Willys-Overland, 6 to 26; Bethlehem Steel, 5 to 254, and International Nickel, a newcomer, which rose 10% to 219; and closed at 212.

The best price of United States Steel today was 75%, which was 4 above yesterday a high level, but heavy selling, some of which was assumed to come from abroad, caused it to decline to 77, closing at 77%.

N. J. EDHOLM DIES BY TAKING POISON

of Jewelry Stores in West Ends Life.

BURIAL AT EVANSTON, WYOMING

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 23 .-(Special,) - Despondent because of financial reverses and falling health, N. J. Edholm, head of the firm of Edholm & Akin, owners of Jewelry stores in Cheyenne, Evanston and Green River, Wyo., and Sparks, Nev., committed suicide some time last night at Evanston by swallowing eyanide of potassium.

Edholm, who was about 60 years of age, was deeply affected by the death of his partner, Arthur Akin, to whom he was devoted and since then was unable to give his business the same attention that made possible the success of their string of jewelry establishments.

Edholm, by the provisions of his partner's will, became almost the sole owner of all the firm's property, this having been the agreement between them.

The funeral will be held at Evanston tomorrow and the body will be interred beside that of Akin, who died a year ago. The firm took its start and is well known in Omaba

Nelson J. Edholm was in the jewelry business in Omaha for many years prior to 1890. His brother, Albert Edholm, who has a jewelry business of his own here. was called to Evanston by a telegram announcing the death.

The establishment with which Nelson J Edholm was connected was at Fifteenth and Dodge, directly east of the old government building. The firm was at first Edholm & Erickson, later Edholm & Akin, and about 1890 it failed. Soon after Mr. Edholm went west, locating in Evanston, where, with Akin, he em-barked again in the same business and

In the cases of the ascertainment of damages hitherto arranged between the German government and a neutral government from similar causes, the experts named by the two parties have always reached an agreement as to the amount of the damage without difficulty; should it not be possible, however, to reach an agreement on some point, it could probably be settled by diplomatic negotiations. Assuring that the American government agrees to this, the German government names as its experts Dr. Kepny of Bremen, director of the North German Lloyds; it begs to await the designation of the American expert.

Future Conduct of War. "For the German government does no need to depart from the application of generally recognised rules of the law o maritime war, as the Decleration of London, unless and insofar as an exception based on a treaty, is established beyond all doubt. In the case of the present difference of opinion between the Ger man and the American governments such an exception could not be taken to be arbitral award. Moreover, the disadvantages to Germany which would ensu from the American interpretation of the treaty stipulation would be so much those which the German interpretation would entail for the United States. For whereas as the American interpretation would materially impede Germany in its conduct of warfare hardly if any particular disadvantage to American citizens would result from the German interpretation since they receive full reparation for any property damage sustained.
